Proof of Ford V-8 Economy

MOVE up to high-priced car performance—without the extra cost! The thrill of driving a Ford V-8 can be matched only in cars costing hundreds of dollars more. The Ford V-8 is responsive. It picks up more easily. At all speeds you get the smooth, effortless flow of power which marks fine car performance.

—And in a Ford V-8 you get this performance at less cost.

In bringing the V-8 to the low price field, Ford designed an engine which, with the dual downdraft carburetion, simply takes the gas used by a "4" of similar size and stable it like eight equal charges. In fact, the Ford V-8 with its remarkable "economizer" and 8 cylinder smoothness is the most economical car Ford ever built. Definite cost records of large numbers of Ford owners show actual savings in the operation of the Ford V-8 over previous Ford models.

Test this great car yourself. Get behind the wheel and drive it. Feel the thrill of modern V-8 performance. Then, remember, that 10 over all economy is greater than those [illegible] test drive.

Va. Pub. Ser. Announces Rate Cuts

A system-wide reduction in Residential and commercial electric rates of the Virginia Public Service Company was announced today by F. Mayos, Division Manager of the company.

"Savings to residential and commercial customers served by the company throughout its territory in Virginia and West Va. will be over $300,000 per year. Of the 78000 residential and commercial customers served, approximately 58000 residential and 10000 commercial customers will be benefitted by the reduced rates," Mr. Mayes stated.

According to the announcement, the new lower rates will become effective May 1, and were the result of studies which the company is constantly making in its efforts to provide electric service at the lowest possible cost consistent with good business practice. Some of the factors which enabled the company to make the reduction were the increased use of electric service by its customers, the growth of the territory served and the generally improved economic conditions throughout the system which point to more stable business conditions than have prevailed in the past.

CORRECTION

On Page ten of today's paper, there appears a typographical error in the advertisement of COLEMANS in Lynchburg. The heading should read "History repeats itself.... in style . . Quality is a lasting tradition." In the ad the word "lasting" is made to read "lashing". We regret the error. —The Editor.

On the night of March 22, Tom Phillips, member of this camp, was walking along the streets of Rustburg, Virginia, a town some 8 miles from our camp, the 2385th C. C. C. Co. Out of nowhere came an automobile at a rather high rate of speed, with its lights shining in his face it came to a sudden stop. He was called to the car, when he got close enough to see the occupants he was staring at three armed negroes. He was ordered into the car and told to keep quiet. After driving for sometime he was ordered out of the car, and told to strip off his clothes, and this he did at gun point; he was then told to get going, and not to look back. Phillips, by their actions realized that they were desperate, so he obeyed orders as he received them. He was then shot at 7 times but no shots reached their mark. On the following day the negroes were caught some forty or fifty miles from the place of the holdup. The men were still terrifying the country as they went through it.
